APRIL 2013

Estero Bay Republican Women Federated P.O. Box 395 Morro Bay, CA 93443

Let's Gear Up!

The campaign season gets longer and longer every year. Candidates are taking more time to get their message out, and that's a good thing. This also means that the race for the next big election has already started.

Find out what seats are opening up, especially for local politics. Let's get behind some conservative candidates and get the wheels turning.

Some regard private enterprise as if it were a predatory tiger to be shot. Others look upon it as a cow that they can milk. Only a handful see it for what it really is - the strong horse that pulls the whole cart.

CFRW-CENTRAL DIVISION CONFERENCE
MARCH 22-24, 2013
WONDER VALLEY RANCH
SANGER, CALIFORNIA

Marta and Suzy arrived before our respective meetings at 1:30pm - Marta to the Executive Board Meeting - Suzy to the President's Meeting.

The President's meeting was conducted by Maxine Bennett, past president of CFRW-Central Division. We covered agendas, by-laws, budgets, and communications. All information was in a packet which we are copying and passing on to the incoming officers. There is a lot of information for a better understanding of what makes a club successful.

Friday night starting at 5:30pm was a "mix and mingle" before the murder mystery dinner entitled "Killing for the Crown" - a murder and mayhem at the Miss America pageant. This was a great networking tool that had the entire attendance participating.

Saturday morning was spent with reports from the officers and different chairs. Also, a forum was held with past presidents from 1998 - 2011 discussing highs and lows and their accomplishments. The selection and voting of the Nominating Committee then took place.

During lunch we had Gina Wallace, a California State University of Fresno professor of political science, as our speaker. At 1:00pm we were divided into 4 groups for our Leadership Training/Team Building activities on the grounds of the ranch. Our main 4 activities: mental exercise, a maze on the ground, rope course where we were blindfolded, and a canoe race on the lake (rowers blindfolded) with one person giving directions on the course.

Dinner was served and our speaker was Nancy Stafford, actress/producer, author, motivational speaker discussing "Beat Defeat".

Finally, the total attendance was 103 people, and we all came away with a great attitude on teamwork while having a terrific fun time.

Are women equal to men? Are Jews equal to gentiles? Are blacks equal to Italians, Irish, Polish and other white people? The answer is probably a big fat no, and the pretense or assumption that we are equal — or should be equal — is foolhardy and creates mischief. Let's look at it.

Male geniuses outnumber female geniuses 7-to-1. Female intelligence is packed much closer to the middle of the bell curve, whereas men's intelligence has far greater variability. That means that though there are many more male geniuses, there are also many more male idiots. The latter might partially explain why more men are in jail than women.

Watch any Saturday afternoon college basketball game and ask yourself the question fixated in the minds of liberals everywhere: "Does this look like America?" Among the 10 players on the court, at best there might be two white players. If you want to see the team's white players, you must look at the bench. A Japanese or Chinese player is close to being totally out of the picture, even on the bench. Professional basketball isn't much better, with 80 percent of the players being black, but at least there's a Chinese player. Professional football isn't much better, with blacks being 65 percent. In both sports, blacks are among the highest-paid players and have the highest number of awards for excellence. Blacks who trace their ancestry to West Africa, including black Americans, hold more than 95 percent of the top times in sprinting.

By contrast, blacks are only 2 percent of the NHL's ice hockey players. But don't fret about black NHL underrepresentation. State underrepresentation is worse. Most U.S. professional hockey players were born in Minnesota, followed by Massachusetts. Not a single U.S. professional hockey player can boast of having been born and raised in Hawaii, Mississippi or Louisiana. Any way we cut it, there is simply no racial proportionality or diversity in professional basketball, football and hockey.

A more emotionally charged question is whether we have equal intelligence. Take Jews, for example. They are only 3 percent of the U.S. population. Half-baked theories of racial proportionality would predict that 3 percent of U.S. Nobel laureates are Jews, but that's way off the mark. Jews constitute a whopping 39 percent of American Nobel Prize winners. At the international level, the disparity is worse. Jews are not even 1 percent of the world's population, but they constitute 20 percent of the world's Nobel Prize winners.

There are many other inequalities and disproportionalities. Asian-Americans routinely score the highest on the math portion of the SAT, whereas blacks score the lowest. Men are 50 percent of the population, and so are women; yet men are struck by lightning six times as often as women. I'm personally wondering what whoever is in charge of lightning has against men. Population statistics for South Dakota, Iowa, Maine, Montana and Vermont show that not even 1 percent of their respective populations is black. By contrast, in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi, blacks are overrepresented in terms of their percentages in the general population. Pima Indians of Arizona have the world's highest known diabetes rates. Prostate cancer is nearly twice as common among black men as white men. Cervical cancer rates are five times higher among Vietnamese women in the U.S. than among white women.

Soft-minded and sloppy-thinking academics, lawyers and judges harbor the silly notion that but for the fact of discrimination, we'd be proportionately distributed by race across incomes, education, occupations and other outcomes. There is absolutely no evidence anywhere, at any time, that proportionality is the norm anywhere on earth; however, much of our thinking, many of our laws and much of our public policy are based upon proportionality's being the norm. Maybe this vision is held because people believe that equality in fact is necessary for equality before the law. But the only requirement for equality before the law is that one is a human being.

In 1887 Alexander Tyler, a Scottish history professor at the University of Edinburgh, had this to say about the fall of the Athenian Republic some 2,000 years prior: A democracy is always temporary in nature; it simply cannot exist as a permanent form of government. A democracy will continue to exist up until the time that voters discover that they can vote themselves generous gifts from the public treasury. From that moment on, the majority always votes for the candidates who promise the most benefits from the public treasury, with the result that every democracy will finally collapse over loose fiscal policy, (which is) always followed by a dictatorship."

"The average age of the world's greatest civilizations from the beginning of history, has been about 200 years.

During those 200 years, these nations always progressed through the following sequence:

From bondage to spiritual faith;
From spiritual faith to great courage;
From courage to liberty;
From liberty to abundance;
From abundance to complacency;
From complacency to apathy;
From apathy to dependence;
From dependence back into bondage."

Ladies :

We often ask how we can help. Currently in the news I hear remarks that people are not engaged and connecting with the congress. You can change that. We need to let them know about our conservative support on these most current discussions in Washington. Certainly Obama is doing as much as he can to imply that the Country supports him. Nothing could be further from the truth when you look into opinions as well as a variety of polls. For those of you with computers you can very easily send e-mail daily should you choose or snail mail or call the phone numbers and addresses that are on the last sheet of the newsletter.

I will make this as easy as possible for computer users. Whether your representative is Republican or Democrat WRITE.

For the house: <http://www.house.gov/representatives/find/>

If you go the above site they will ask for your zip and you will go to Lois Capps. Click on the little envelope and send her an e-mail. Unfortunately the house does not let you e-mail other congressman but you can e-mail the leadership so contact the Speaker and Majority Leader.

In the senate <http://www.senate.gov/>

Got to the list of senators and have at it. Most of them will take you to their personal page and they have a “contact us button”.

This is so easy.

he big issues:

1. Obamacare my support goes behind stopping it in any way possible. It is imploding on itself already but our leaders need to hear from us.
 2. Gun control. The senators especially the democrats are scared to death to support this as they know it is unpopular with most Americans and many Democrats themselves are against it. Uphold the 2nd. Amendment and tell them to support the laws all ready in place not make more. There is not one law proposed anywhere that would have prevented the tragedy of Newtown.
 3. Immigration. Does something need to be done yes but again support the laws in place, make sure the border is secure FIRST. Reagan tried and it failed because of porous borders.
- All of you are informed voters and we can help each other. In your reading if you would like me to send either a link or an article of information on these topics I will be glad to pass it on to my mailing list. Make sure you have facts not hearsay. We can use these facts as our talking points. Using my e-mail address pkenner@charter.net in the subject line write “Voter information “. Write or call often. You don’t have to write a letter. Put the topic in the subject line and just write a line or two. It is the volume of comments they get that counts. Anyone needing assistance call and I will do my best to help. This is such an easy thing to do and so worthwhile.

Thanks,
